Wisdom Ways Acupuncture

Waiver of liability: Acupuncture Care during the COVID-19 Pandemic

I have requested to resume or start my Chinese medicine care despite uncertainties related to the risks that I or my dependents may be taking. I acknowledge that our current understanding of the COVID-19 virus, its transmission and risks to humans is incomplete and constantly changing.

I understand that COVID-19 is a highly contagious respiratory virus that can be transmitted by asymptomatic people, and that the known consequences of contracting the COVID-19 virus range from being asymptomatic to respiratory failure and death

Understanding the above and, as an expression of rights and autonomy, I do not want to wait any longer before starting or continuing my Chinese medical care.

I do hereby accept any and all risks and consequences, whether physical or mental, with coming in for treatment, and release, indemnify, protect and hold Inger Giffin and Wisdom Ways Acupuncture harmless from any and all liability (including attorney fees and costs) related to the consequences of my choice to receive treatment.

In signing this document, my/our questions have been answered to my/our satisfaction.
