OTMOOR

David Attwooll poems & Andy Walton images

Attwooll & Walton spent a year exploring Otmoor's rich history & environment.
The resulting poems and images evoke myth, geography, memory.

David Attwooll's poems introduced by Jenny Lewis

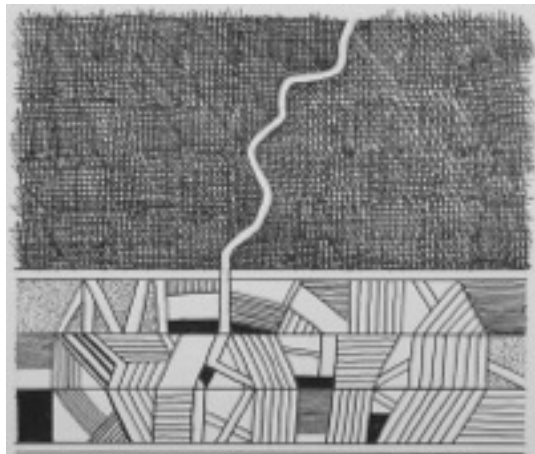

& read by

Andrew Walton and the poets who presented this work during the exhibition

Otmoor - Myth & Moonlight at ArtJericho Gallery, 2016.

A selection of the original drawings will be shown during the evening.

'The whole pamphlet is evocative and rich; the poet and artist work well together... the collaboration completely fuses, as though the two mediums meet on their most equal terms...' Charlotte Gann, Sphinx, August 2016

plus music from internationally renowned jazz pianist Frank Harrison

Frank composed 'First Light' as part of Ground Work, the previous collaboration about Port Meadow, Oxford in 2014.

Proceeds from sales of the pamphlets Ground Work & Otmoor to the David Attwooll Memorial Fund which assists creative collaborations between poets and other art forms.
